

ALTA SIGNA

A large container ship, painted in blue and red, is docked at a port. The ship is loaded with numerous colorful shipping containers (blue, red, white, and yellow). Several large red gantry cranes are positioned along the dock, ready for loading and unloading. The ship's reflection is visible in the calm water of the harbor. The sky is a clear, vibrant blue.

Who can benefit from Alta Signa's product range of Marine Cargo insurance?

A diverse array of businesses and professionals engaged in the intricate world of international trade can find value in cargo insurance coverage. From importers and exporters navigating global markets to logistics companies ensuring seamless transportation, our tailored solutions cater to the unique needs of various stakeholders in the supply chain. Whether safeguarding shipments during transit or protecting inventory within warehouses, cargo insurance offers a reliable and comprehensive shield against the uncertainties inherent in the global trade landscape.

Importers and Exporters: Businesses engaged in international trade, whether importing goods for domestic distribution or exporting products to global markets.

Freight Forwarders: Companies responsible for coordinating and managing the transportation of goods on behalf of shippers, benefitting from coverage that mitigates risks during transit.

Manufacturers and Suppliers: Entities involved in the production and supply chain of goods, securing coverage to protect their products during transportation.

Logistics and Transportation Companies: Companies providing transportation services, including carriers, trucking companies, and shipping lines, seeking coverage for the cargo they handle.

Commodity Traders: Individuals or companies engaged in the buying and selling of commodities, requiring coverage for the transportation risks associated with their trading activities.

What type of exposures can a cargo company typically insure against?

Our cargo insurance coverage is designed to be flexible and adaptive, providing a robust shield against the diverse risks inherent in the global movement of goods:

Physical Loss or Damage: Protection against physical loss or damage to goods during transportation, whether by land, sea, or air.

Theft and Pilferage: Coverage for losses resulting from theft or pilferage during the journey, ensuring financial security for valuable cargo.

Natural Disasters: Safeguarding against the impact of natural disasters such as earthquakes, floods, storms, or other unforeseen events that may affect the cargo.

General Average and Salvage Charges: Protection against additional expenses incurred due to general average contributions or salvage operations necessary to protect the entire shipment.

War and Strikes Risks: Mitigation of risks associated with war, civil unrest, or strikes that may impact the transportation and safety of cargo.

What maximum limit of liability does Alta Signa offer?

Alta Signa can underwrite up to Euro 10 million for any one loss.

What is the Alta Signa risk appetite for Marine Cargo insurance?

At Alta Signa, our risk criteria are grounded in a commitment to quality and relevance, with each potential account subjected to a meticulous evaluation. We prioritise a deep study of individual cases, ensuring that our cargo insurance solutions align seamlessly with the unique needs and risk profiles of our clients.

Our focus is on EEA companies engaged in global import/export activities, with a particular emphasis on the nuances of the Italian market. We believe in tailoring coverage to the specific challenges faced by businesses operating within Italy, fostering a localised understanding of the intricacies of the trade landscape. Our risk criteria lead us to refrain from underwriting multinational programmes, car carriers, and livestock transport.

Our main targeted risks are:

SME Focus: Tailored cargo insurance for SMEs, addressing the unique challenges of businesses operating at this scale.

Italy-Centric Coverage: Specialised solutions designed for companies mainly based in Italy, offering a localised understanding of the Italian market.

Proven Risk Management: Prioritising clients with strong track records in loss prevention and risk mitigation, ensuring proactive protection for their cargo.

Premium Transport: Our cargo insurance targets businesses with first-class means of transport, providing coverage for those committed to excellence in transportation.

How do we handle our Claims?

Claims handling is a client focused process for Alta Signa. Rather than taking over a claim, our claims handlers aim to respond quickly to claims' notices and assist the broker and client. Broker and client communication and support throughout the claims handling process are therefore deemed critical.

Our claims handlers have specialist product expertise and strong legal and loss adjustment knowledge, and will service brokers and clients in their native languages. They are empowered by our insurers to make fast decisions.

Alta Signa will always aim to act in good faith and honour the intent of the insurance policy. The team will operate in a non-adversarial manner and seek speedy resolutions.

To assist with our goals and future growth, we are in the process of building a claims database that can be deployed for broker and customer education, predictive analytics, risk pricing and the setting of pre-loss risk appetite parameters.
